

Dear students at GSAIS,

If you plan a research project on human participants outside GSAIS (interview, survey, experiment, etc), you should consider this year's particular condition amid COVID-19.

Basically, these research projects to see people face-to-face (off-line) will not be allowed until the situation returns to normal.

You should postpone such data collections for the time being, so please figure out what kind of activities are useful for your QE or other papers.

Discuss with your supervisor(s) on this matter as soon as possible.
