
MAKINO KOJI

Program-Specific Professor

Research interests

International development, human security, SDGs, development economics

Degree

Master of Economics, Hosei University

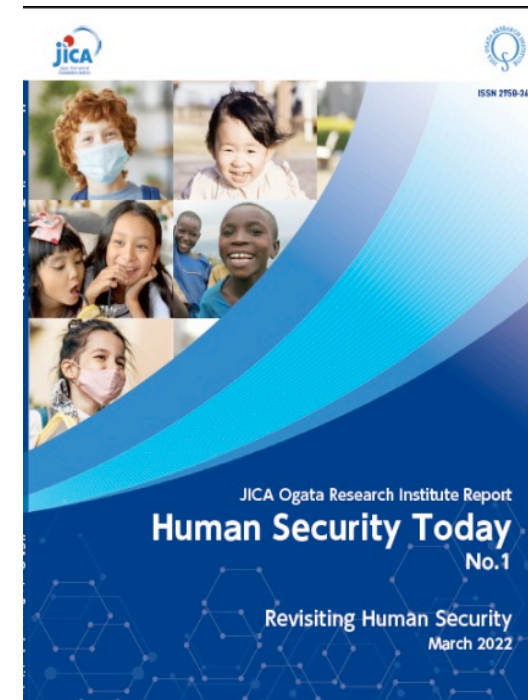

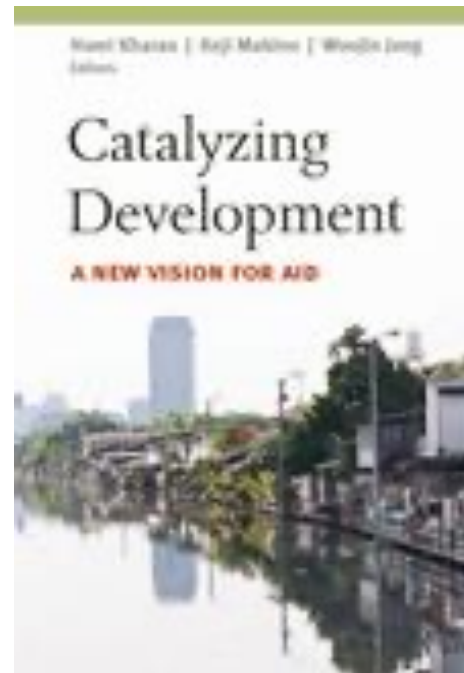

Main careers

Engaged in international cooperation over 3 decades at JICA, EXIM Bank of Japan, etc. Previous posts include Director General (DG) of JICA Ogata Research Institute, DG of Economic Development Department, and Chief Representatives of JICA Offices in Africa.

Recent researches

- Human security
- Post SDGs
- Sustainable finance (E.S.G.)
(in collaboration with Brookings)

Samples of published books

(Human Survivability Studies)

International Development Research Group

The world is facing compounded crises such as pandemics, climate change, and military tensions. International development is becoming increasingly important. This research group engages in activities to broadly and freely discuss development-related issues and challenges.

«Main themes»

- Compounded crisis in the world
- Human security
- SDGs
- History, culture and diversification in Africa
- International development and DX

MAKINO KOJI

Program-Specific Professor

Messages to exam students

To students who are enthusiastic to make a system change of the world, by putting your theory and policy into practice on the ground,

Most welcome !

