

Izumi OHNO Director, JICA Research Institute

Izumi Ohno is Director of the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA) Research Institute. She specializes in international development policy, Japanese development cooperation, business and development. During the Think 20 (T20) 2019 Japan process, Ms. Ohno has served as lead Co-Chair of Task Force on 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and contributed to formulating policy recommendations for the G20 Osaka Summit. Prior to joining the JICA Research Institute in October 2018, she was Professor of the National Graduate Institute for Policy Studies (GRIPS), and she continues to serve as an Adjunct Professor of GRIPS. Previously, Ms. Ohno also worked at the World Bank, the Japan Bank for International Cooperation (JBIC), and the JICA.

Over the past years, Ms. Ohno was engaged in a number of advisory committees in the areas of international development, economic cooperation, inclusive business, and so on. In 2014, she served as a member of the Advisory Panel to the Minister of Foreign Affairs on the ODA Charter Review. Ms. Ohno graduated from the Tsuda College (Tokyo), and holds a MPA from the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at the Princeton University in USA.

Her publications include books on: From a Small Factory in Japan to a Global Firm in Asia: SME's Overseas Expansion Strategy & Policy Support (ed., Chuo-keizai Publishing Co., 2015); Eastern and Western Ideas for African Growth (edited with Kenichi Ohno, Routledge, 2013); Introduction to BOP Business: Addressing Global Challenges through Partnership (co-authored, Chuo-keizai Publishing Co., 2011); and Japan's International Development Cooperation, (edited with Kazumi Goto and Toshio Watanabe, Nippon Hyoronsha, 2005).